

The Oscar goes to...

Who are you, who are you
In this masquerade
Is your love, just a part
Of a scene that you play

I can see, you n' me
We live in our separate worlds
Are you for real
Or is there something that I shouldn't know

A thousand faces
My heart runs races
And I'm in need to really understand

There's something about you girl
That makes you mysterious
I'm out of my head
So what am I to do
I'm on to you
There's something about your touch
That makes me delirious
It's hard to believe
If all they say is true
Then the Oscar goes to you

What's your part, from the start
You're hiding emotions
I'm confused 'cuz you're almost too good
To be true...

The stars are falling
Camera's rolling
It seems like you've been acting all the time

There's something about you girl
That makes you mysterious
I'm out of my head
So what am I to do
I'm on to you
There's something about your touch
That makes me delirious
It's hard to believe
If all they say is true
Then the Oscar goes to you
